DIRECTOR'S NOTES

"I didn't realize. So all that was going on and we never noticed."

Emily, Act III

Thornton Wilder's simple, yet brilliant script and style of storytelling was ground-breaking when this show opened in 1938, and it was awarded the Pulitzer Prize. It is now one of the most performed plays ever. The use of pantomime, unseen characters, no scenery, and breaking the fourth wall had never been seen in an American theater prior to OUR TOWN.

After three years without a non-musical play on the LC stage and all we've experienced through the pandemic, returning to a play with timeless and profound themes seemed restorative. A focus on the precious nature of a simple day and life resonates with all of us in a different way after the last two years.

As you watch the story of OUR TOWN, please notice the chairs on stage. I asked those involved with the production to contribute any interesting wooden chairs they/their families might have. Each chair has a story and represents a part of someone's daily life. The profound nature of the simple is what this play is all about.

I am so grateful for my ten years with Tiger Drama working with Greg and all members of our production teams. And it is a joy and privilege to bring stories to life working with such incredible young people. We have enjoyed exploring all that Grover's Corners has to offer. Welcome and thank you for your support of Tiger Drama!
