HAMLET

Young Hamlet returns home from university to discover that, not only is his father (Old Hamlet) newly dead, but that his mother, Gertrude, has married Old Hamlet's brother, Claudius, and that Claudius is now king.

GHOSTLY ENCOUNTER - Late one night, the ghost of Hamlet's father appears to him, accusing Claudius of his murder and urging Hamlet to revenge. This sets in motion a train of events that destroys both family and state.

MADNESS - No longer able to trust his own senses, the loyalty of his old friends, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern, or even the affections of his young love, Ophelia, Hamlet fakes madness in an attempt to provide himself with proof that the ghost is telling the truth. Aided only by his most loyal companion, Horatio, he persuades a travelling band of actors to re-enact the story of his father's murder in front of Claudius and Gertrude, hoping that Claudius will be so stirred by remorse that he will confess his crime.

During an intense meeting with his mother, Hamlet hears a noise and realizes that they are being spied upon. In rage, he stabs the hidden eavesdropper, believing it to be Claudius. Instead he discovers it is the King's adviser, Polonius, father to both Ophelia and her brother, Laertes. Polonius dies.

REVENGE - Afraid of what Hamlet might do next, Claudius has him arrested and dispatched to England under guard, where he has arranged to have Hamlet murdered. Hamlet escapes, returns home and finally achieves his revenge.

Ophelia, having been violently rejected by Hamlet, hears that her father has been murdered. She loses her mind and eventually drowns herself. Her brother, Laertes, returns to court at the head of an angry mob, determined to find out the truth. Claudius convinces him that Hamlet is the only guilty party and agrees to help Laertes gain revenge.

DEATH - On learning of Hamlet's escape and return to his homeland, Claudius convinces Laertes to challenge Hamlet to a fencing match and advises Laertes on how to kill Hamlet during the duel without arousing suspicion. As a back-up plan, Claudius also poisons a glass of wine which he intends to offer to Hamlet. Gertrude, however, drinks from the glass first and dies.

During the duel, Hamlet is wounded by Laertes, who has tipped his sword with a deadly poison. In the ensuing tussle, the swords get switched and Hamlet wounds Laertes with the poisoned one. Realizing that he is about to die, and that Claudius has manipulated the situation, Laertes confesses everything, forgives Hamlet and dies.

As the poison takes hold and he realizes that he too is about to die, Hamlet carries through his dead father's wish for revenge. He forces Claudius to drink the remaining poisoned wine, which quickly takes effect. With his dying breath, Hamlet asks Horatio to ensure that his story is told accurately.

Rae Baer is excited to work on both Xanadu (Costumes) and Hamlet (Hamlet). She has performed in Thespians Choice, Almost, Maine, and Radium Girls, and has costumed in six other LC Tiger drama shows including The Music Man, Newsies, and Cinderella. She wants to thank her family, friends, and (as of yet non-existent) paparazzi for the constant encouragement!

Caleb Bopp* (Class of 2020) Polonius - HAMLET

Caleb is coming in hot out of Newsies and is stoked for his involvement in Hamlet and Xanadu. He previously appeared in Cinderella, Almost Maine and Radium Girls. There's none other to thank, of course, than Sarah Gores for her inspiration of the ROLL TIGS life. Remember this: without hard work, nothing grows but weeds. Stay classy.

Brendan Burns* (Class of 2019) Claudius - HAMLET

Brendan Burns is ecstatic to be in his third LC production. He was in Radium Girls and Newsies at Lewis and Clark previously, and was in productions at the Stage Left Theater and Ignite Community Theater before that. His spare time is spent performing at the Blue Door Theatre or participating in Robotics and Film Club. He hopes you enjoy the show!

Sierra Clark* (Class of 2020) Hera – XANADU/ Costumes - HAMLET

Sierra is excited to be involved in these Tiger Drama productions. Her previous shows include Newsies and Cinderella. She is thrilled to be involved in this show and thanks her family for their support.

Amelia Crawford-Heim* (Class of 2020) Siren Molpe - XANADU

Amelia is excited for her first on stage role in her LC Tiger Drama career. She has had roles such as ASM for Radium Girls, hair and makeup crew for Newsies, and Props for Almost, Maine. She is thrilled to continue to expand her Tiger Drama experience! Amelia will be appearing in Bare: A Pop Opera this spring at Spokane Stage Left Theatre.

Olivia Daniels-Fallis (Class of 2021) Ensemble - HAMLET

Olivia is excited to be a part of the ensemble as her first on-stage appearance and second show with Lewis and Clark! She previously ran spotlight for Newsies. Olivia would like to thank her family and friends for their understanding and support of her interests and pursuits in theatre.

XANADU

Based on the 1980 musical film starring Olivia Newton John and Gene Kelly, this stage version parody pokes fun at the era of roller disco, leg warmers, and the pop music of the day.

While the Xanadu film was widely panned and considered a flop, the soundtrack was a huge commercial success. Creators of the stage musical took advantage to turn it into a 2008 Broadway “jukebox” musical which received four Tony nominations and quickly found a cult following in the theatre world.

This cutting of Hamlet has been a collaborative effort between students and staff. We have reduced the events of the play into a staged reading version where the actors use their scripts. The use of three actors collectively playing Hamlet helps illuminate Hamlet’s angry, deceitful, and honest nature.

Because of the condensed nature of this production, you might notice a few plot points that get glossed over or all together omitted. Shakespeare’s work withstands creativity like this and gives students a chance to work with classic material with an inventive approach for both staging and interpretive purposes.
